

Apprentice Butcher

Job Description

James Whelan Butchers is an award-winning family run, artisan butchers with our headquarters based in Tipperary. We are currently looking for apprentices to join our teams. We are passionate about finding great people to work with and making sure they get the support they need to thrive.

Each of our teams have a passion for the art of butchery, they enjoy carrying out traditional skills and want to pass those skills on to the next generation. We are heavily invested in putting together great teams, where everyone feels confident to grow and develop, with our master butchers' guidance you will be able to be creative and innovative.

We pride ourselves on the dynamic work environment we have created, we are passionate, hardworking, and supportive of each other. We want our apprentices to feel a sense of dignity in what they do and where they work. We want you to flourish in this environment where you can grow in your chosen skill, and we want to inspire you to take those next steps whilst always having the reassurance of a long-term path if that is your goal.

Come and meet us if you want to be part of something special where your contribution is valued, and triumph is celebrated!
